by Regional Offices Service

November 2007

(Summary)

Page 3: Section One – Overview/Summary of Project

Page 8: Section Two – This section provides a summary of returns received for primary pupils whose first language is neither English nor Irish sorted by primary school for each cluster.

Page 28: Section Three – This section provides a summary of returns received for primary school pupils identified as being from the Traveller Community. The first table in this section gives a breakdown of the number of pupils from this group within each cluster. For those clusters with more than 19 pupils identified as being from the Traveller Community a cluster-based summary is also provided.

Page 42: Section Four – This section provides a summary of returns received for those primary pupils identified as having Special Educational Needs sorted by primary school for each cluster. It should be noted the level of Special Educational Need is not qualified.

Page 62: Section Five – This section provides a summary of returns received for post-primary pupils whose first language is neither English nor Irish sorted by post-primary school for each cluster grouped by local authority.

Page 68: Section Six – This section provides a summary of returns received for post-primary pupils identified as being from the Traveller Community.

Page 74: Section Seven – This section provides a summary of returns received for those post-primary pupils identified as having Special Educational. Again, it should be noted the level of Special Educational Need is not qualified.

Section One – Introduction/Overview of project

At the request of Minister Hanafin, an audit has been undertaken to examine the degree to which disparities exist between schools in terms of the enrolment of newcomer pupils. In order to achieve a full picture of school enrolment, the audit was expanded to include pupils from the Traveller community and those with Special Education Needs. Newcomers have been divided into pupils whose first language is neither English nor Irish and other international pupils whose first language is English. The audit was conducted by the Regional Office Service with each regional Office covering a number of counties in their catchments; not all parts of the country were covered. The audit provides a position in schools as at end-March of 2007.

1. Schools and issues covered by the audit

The audit covered schools at both primary and post-primary levels as follows:

- (i) Primary
 - Educate Together
 - Gaelscoileanna
 - Denominational

- (ii) Post-primary
 - Voluntary Secondary
 - Community and Comprehensive
 - VEC

Each school was required to provide information on the following issues in addition to a copy of its enrolment policy:

- (i) Overall number of pupils enrolled;
- (ii) Pupils whose first language is neither English or Irish;
- (iii) Other international pupils whose first language is English;
- (iv) Pupils from the Traveller community; and
- (v) Pupils with Special Education Needs.

2. Initial Coverage of the audit

The audit initially concentrated on 1,995 schools (1,572 primary and 426 post-primary) in 17 Local Authorities across 10 counties as outlined in the table overleaf.

Table 1: Summary of School initially covered by audit

Table 3: Initial findings for Post Primary Schools covered by audit

Number Pupils	Average Pupils	% Enrolment

International Pupils - English speaking (IP_ENG)	4.6	1.05%
Travellers	4.8	1.09%
Special Education Needs	39.5	9.01%

Note: As chosen counties include those with largest urban areas (cities) the average findings across the various category of student is likely to be significantly above the actual NATIONAL average.

3. Cluster-based Audit

On analysis of the initial findings it was decided to concentrate on a ‘cluster-based’ approach by focusing on particular towns or areas within cities.

Each Regional Office identified appropriate ‘clusters’ for closer analysis based both on local knowledge and the initial findings of the audit.

Sections 2-9 of this report are based on this stage of the audit.

The two tables overleaf outline the number of schools involved in this ‘cluster-based’ approach and highlight the high level of returns received.

Important Note re Primary School Figures

Caution is required in drawing conclusions from disparities indicated in the percentages of newcomer children, traveller children and children with special education needs across primary schools within a given geographical cluster.

This is because, in many instances, differences indicated can be attributed to particular local factors identified by the Department's Regional Offices in the course of their assessment. In this regard, a significant factor in the disbursement of newcomer children and children from the traveller community relates to local geography, i.e. children attend the school that is closest to where they live. In relation to data on children from the traveller community, it should also be noted that the statistical significance of any wide variance needs to be interpreted in the context of the small overall numbers of traveller children within many of the clusters.

In relation to the distribution of pupils with special education needs at primary level, the assessment of returns clearly indicated that different schools used different criteria in identifying pupils as "Special Education Needs Pupils". In a number of instances these differences of interpretation have contributed to the scale of apparent disparities in the percentage of children with special education needs enrolled across schools within a cluster.
